NORTH CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

Home of the North Central Indians, the warrior tepee, was opened in 1909. Since that time, the theme of the school has embodied the call of the Indian, a flash of red and black in the color standard, and the indomitable spirit of the old warriors.

A democratic feeling prevails within the tribe, with boys and girls organizations uniting in friendliness to bring peace and harmony to the North Central Indians.

FREDERIC G. KENNEDY

Principal

THIRTY years at North Central has given to Principal F. G. Kennedy the ability to cope with any and all situations. Physics teacher and football coach in 1910, he became principal in 1922.

In his talks to the students Mr. Kennedy manages to combine wisdom with an inextinguishable sense of humor, a combination that makes him a favorite with everyone.

His liberal policies and his willingness to cooperate with all school organizations have been prime factors in making North Central the progressive school it is today.

During leisure time, "F. G.," as he is often called, pursues his hobbies of gardening, figure skating and photography.

WALTER C. HAWES

Vice Principal

WALTER C. HAWES, vice principal since 1929, is a familiar figure to all North Centralites. Although a source of apprehension to violators of excuse rules, Mr. Hawes plays square with a student if the student will follow suit.

Mr. Hawes has coached the golf team for many years and is an ardent sports fan. He has the painstaking job of preparing over 2000 program cards each semester. Mr. Hawes came to North Central in 1917 as a chemistry instructor, became head of the science department in 1920 and nine years later, was appointed vice principal.

His quiet manner of accomplishing big tasks makes him an invaluable asset to North Central.

GOOD BYE, JUNE '40

Graduation, the goal toward which you have been moving, will soon be here. Friends will laugh and say goodbye and scatter, never to come together again in any groups or associations like your high school class.

But friends, especially those you make while you are young, may be the greatest influence in your lives toward happiness and high success. Yes, the reverse is true also. It is what you have shared with your friends that counts in your life.

We have planned to give you high school opportunities. We want to believe that your school experiences have been good for you. You will remember North Central friends longer than anything else about the school; not only your own age friends but those also among your teachers.

What you and the thousands at your age are to do with the conflicting problems of today, no one can say. But we have great faith in you, believing that you will think and act upon the best experience and learning you have had in North Central.

F. G. KENNEDY.

CLASS HISTORY

Listen, my children, and you shall hear—
Not of that ride of Paul Revere,
But of the notable time when frosh arrive;
Every senior is now alive,
Who remembers that famous day and year.

Boss Kennedy said, "If the freshman march
By land or sea from the town tonight,
Hang a lantern aloft in the belfry arch
Of the North Central tower as a beacon light,

So all of the freshmen will know where to go—
They're a rather bewildered bunch, you know."
Thus to N. C. came the frosh stampede,
With the banner of Red and Black in the lead,
And all with a motive to love its creed.

And so with a zest we frosh started in—
Determined distinctions and honors we'd win.
It wasn't so easy at first, understand,
When the bells and the noise and confusion began;
And yells came from everywhere, "Look! He's a frosh!"
And we tried to look brave and smile, but gosh!
It was hard to take every insult and josh;
But most frosh are made of rather stern stuff,
And it took more than teasing to give us enough.

So starting to work with our object in mind,
And gritting our teeth, we got used to the grind.
True, some were ahead and some got behind,
But all were enjoying the fun in this school;
And no one was here but had something to do.
We made many friends, found the teachers were kind,
And went through the year without breaking a rule.

The following fall we went on and on;
We sat on the floor, not the shelf, at a con;
For now the distinction of "freshman" was gone,
And as soon as the schedules were entirely arranged,
We chose all the teachers we thought we'd like best.
The ones we thought easy, as maybe you've guessed.
The Havermale "grads" arrived here that year—
Our class was delighted to see friends appear.
And so with successes and top honors, too,
We worked and had fun 'til as sophs we were through;
And entered our junior year full of good cheer.
We belonged to the ranks of the upper class,
And thought it was time we should get in the fun—
Now that our junior year had begun;

We tried out for clubs, and each lad and his lass
Did his best stepping at every school dance;
And at tennis and football each one had a chance.

So happy and busy, we finished the year,
With records astounding and consciences clear.
And then back to school we came, eager to start
Our senior B term, each doing his part.
And all we accomplished was done with a glance
Toward the wonderful time which comes only once,
And comes to us all, save he who's a dunce,
A time when with proud hearts we'd leave old N. C.,
And go from our high school light hearted and free.

The senior B term started off with a bang;
"We'll make this our very best year!" said our gang.
So first, we decided our leaders we'd choose,
And praises for several people we sang.
Bob Wyse was appointed the head of The News;
The senior B leaders were next on the list—
And all are too fine to be passed up or missed:
Bob Wyse was our prexy, and Nelson the vice,
Gazette and Mahoney—(they're both rather nice);
The senior B class was glad they had run,
For the two leading positions they won.

About this time, the girls of the school
Elected their leaders (as is the rule).
Chosen as prexy was pretty Gwen Shane,
And girls in the League found that Gwen was a jewel.
For the choice that they made was their profit and gain.

And now the fulfillment of wishes was here:
We freshmen at last had become senior A's.
And with the distinction came honor and praise,
Which many had worked for throughout every year.
Again the class prexy was chosen Bob Wyse,
And the Doll Shop gave N. C.'s good "rep" a big rise,
And the senior A honor roll—why, what a size!

Eleanore English was chosen sports queen,
A lovelier lady will never be seen.
"Death Takes a Holiday" drew a huge crowd,
No senior class prom was a gayer affair,
No yearbook possessed such a quality rare—
The senior A class has a right to be proud.

Now we walk through the halls with sad, mournful looks,
For we know from North Central we soon will be gone.
We are saying goodbye to our studies and books,
And though we hate to leave teacher and friend,
We know all good things must come to an end,
So on to other goals our way we will wend.

CLASS WILL

WE, THE graduating class of June, 1940, being of sound mind and intelligently inclined, devoid of bribery and misdemeanors, do hereby legally and under oath draw up this last will and testament; to-wit:

To anyone who takes a joyous and hearty satisfaction in "coming out" parties, Marjie Townsend bequeaths Brenda, Cobina, Elsie the "oomph" eow, and all the other radio debutantes.

Virginia Barton wishes to leave her wee hours in the morning to Bill Weiser—in the hope that he spends them with her.

The sophisticated boredom of Betty Gazette, Podunk from Booby Flat, is willed to the glamorous Bina Guenther.

Peter Benner's profile is left to Harold Kirschke with his sincere compliments.

Her fondness for "Buck" is regretfully given up by Pat Shaw to Marilyn Pradella. It shines best just before a topic test, Mare.

In case anyone should happen to want the "Model A," Wayne Luders joyfully parts with his.

Eleanore English wills her "independent" air to Eva Nicholson, who might use it to a good advantage.

To Mr. Streiter is given the whole commercial department with compliments of Harriet Williamson.

Lewis Altman believes Teddy Hall is the only one who can carry on with his loud bellow.

Doug Cramer is the proud receiver of LeRoy Crowe's shifty hips.

To a certain underclassman, Jean Cockburn wishes to leave all the girls in North Central—if they think they have a chance.

Lloyd Scott hands down his dear hunting license to Bill Hartman. We hope it will come in handy, Bill.

Irene Anderson refuses to leave Harold Gailey for another girl to grab.

To Betty Gilliland is willed a nice big slice from Beverly Byers' golf game. It's a wicked swing she has; so don't forget to duck, Betty.

Jack Frost wills his tall bragging to anyone who can believe him.

To Dorothy Dortch goes Margaret Hoffman's ability to take care of babies.

Her unwilling contributions to the humor in North Central's publications June Arbour leaves to Bob Soth.

To Betty Lou Johnson, Joyce Corey bequeaths her fads and fashions which she has used so very beneficially.

Marion Carter presents Muriel Monroe with her "snap" in English in the hope that she may receive one grade that is not the same as her sister, Marion's.

We joyfully present Mary Brower's timid grin to the senior B's. May it reflect upon their sweet, unaffected personalities.

Mildred Bell wills her experience to the freshman class in the hope that it will enter into the spirit of North Central.

To Don Wagner goes Cameron Ward's definite ideas of government. Carry on with those undecided battles, Don.

Fighting Jack Hillgren leaves his battling personality to all ye students who are unfortunate enough to enter the ring.

Teddy Garlick gives up her ability to play with and captain the girls' golf team to the next "cap."

Her poise is left by Violet Johnson. May the receiver, whoever she be, use it to the greatest advantage.

Mary Jean Ruh leaves to all unintelligent students her ability to get "next" to the teachers.

Geri Baker passes on her puns, epigrams and what have you to Shirley Simpson.

Virginia Snow's shyness is passed on to Irene Christie.

Betty Caudill leaves her popularity as one swell "gal" to Agnes Bennet.

To Harve Phipps goes Joe Carter's sleepy eyes.

Mickey Eichelberger joyfully takes Don Plath with her. Too bad, girls.

Guy McKee's ears go to Bruce Wylder with his sincere compliments.

Eunice Ruetten wills her "come hither" look to Peggy Gazette, but warns her to use it discreetly.

Gail Gardner would like to give her ability to go steady to Beulah Bachelor.

The executive ability of Gwen Shane goes to the next Girls' League prexy.

Walt Frieske wills his "speed" to Tom Herman.

Lauretta Martin wills the shorthand class to any unlucky senior who might struggle in.

To Paul Palmer goes Jed Rozelle's heavy voice.

Marianne Johnston wills her ability to flirt in first period library to Rachel Krause. She will give you information for a mere 5 cents.

His red hair is left by Gordon Allen to any lad with a low-pitched voice.

A little red dye would help Peggy Danforth to achieve Helen Kirk's flaming red hair which she so graciously leaves behind.

Evalyn Tweed's friendly spirit is willed to Muryel Zoellern. Carry it on to the best of your ability, Zoel.

His eating ability is left by Vincent Davis to the next "Jackie Cooper" of the school to use on the glamour gals of the school.

Being as this is leap year, Mary Jane McBride wills her "steady life" to Maxine Doll who can probably carry on very successfully.

Bob Wyse leaves "Junior" Halstead to be inaugurated into all his offices.

Gather around, boys! Betty Halstead leaves her tennis fans to Beverly Abbey.

Jessie Effertz bequeaths her knack for writing letters—is that only in business English, Jessie?—to all the blonds in the school.

The title "Scatterbrain" goes to Doris Kelly with Juanita Henning's compliments.

To Virginia Powers goes Dorothy Jarvis' raven black hair.

The younger generation is improving! Rex Hydorn is actually leaving his baseball mitt to Archie.

Margaret Bossio bequeaths her locker filled with "junk" to No. 652 next semester. (All lost or strayed library books can be kept.)

An aspiring young arranger, George Lotzenhiser, may take over Gerald Hartley's composing and musical ability.

To a faint-lunged alto clarinet player who needs a little courage, Bill Bailor, Oren House wills his squeaky bass clarinet.

The Beau Brummel of the senior dramatics class, Leon Craig, leaves his dashing ability to the next inspired artist.

Barbara M. Wied bequeaths her pleasant-natured dancing ability to the next novice dance class leader.

To Jack Lyman goes Jack Bradford's debating personality and his hot trumpet.

Kenny Symbol, an efficient ground squad captain, wills his little job to George Ridgeway.

Harold Hughes regretfully leaves his tenor sax to the next "under-steady" of Virginia Johnson.

The dramatic ability of Kathleen Kemmery is left to Mrs. Leonard for use in the next class production.

Cora Hughart leaves dear old North Central without a charming young flutist.

To the good-natured musician, John Snow, Bob Beckman bequeaths his dry-humored trumpet playing.

Bob Chilberg will have a chance to swing it with Richard Brede's bass sax.

To whoever needs a helping hand in psychology, Louise Strosnider bequeaths her ability to get a good grade.

The likable personality of Dorothy Menger is bestowed upon Marjory Jergens.

Ruby King's ability to get "good-looking" boy friends is given to Vera Gale Sawins. Good luck, Vera.

The Love of Peggy is left to all the brilliant teachers.

The ability to have a good time is left to Delores Haroldson by Neva Flory.

To the next student who has to plow through authors of novels, short stories, poems and such not, Eloise Kreager leaves her brilliant memory.

His base stealing ability is left by Howard Whorle to the up and coming baseball player, Wayne Hill.

Caddy Jack Bloom bequeaths his ability to walk five miles every day to Vernon Benshoof who appears to have a bright future for the profession.

To Shirley Putnam, Norman Emeh wills his ability to call the winning round of Joe's fight.

The brains of Kenneth Dirkes are left to any teacher who needs them to outsmart other future geniuses.

Margaret Moylan leaves this school to become a teacher. Can she still do that after going through North Central?

That shadow above his upper lip is given by Leo Miles to any one who thinks he is man enough to grow one.

Bob Newell bequeaths his nickname "Panty waist" to Frank Pickell.

To Alex Contos goes Herb Johnson's ability to snag passes.

His 6 feet 2 inches is bequeathed by Harley Quackenbush to the brilliant tennis star, Joe Braseh.

Carrol Osman willfully wills her study periods to those studes who never realize there are such things.

The big blue eyes of Marie Michaels are left to her sister Dorothy.

Her exuberance is willed by Dorothy Ilias to Udora Gundry who has that certain way with the he-men.

Her ability to manage things is regretfully left by Helen Senter to the next manager of the spring style show.

Joel Peters leaves his crushes to the next boy who can't resist the girl sitting next to him.

The stunning fur coat of Juanita Zeimantz is left the the poor cold freshmen.

We, the undersigned, hereby attach our names to this last will and testament of the June, 1940, graduating class, hoping that in the years to come we shall be forgiven.

Many Celebrities Attend Banquet

"Slippery Heel" Opens Soon; Hix Clicks on Coast

Opening Saturday night at the city's newest dance pavilion, The Slippery Heel, are Boh Hix and his famous orchestra, who are coming from the Coast especially for the grand opening. They are bringing with them that sensational new vocalist and song stylist, Leona Sullivan. Miss Sullivan has just joined Hix and his band after completing a five-year radio contract. Clarinet Soloist Ken Strickler, outstanding member of the band, will be featured Saturday night at the opening performance.

Miss Hopkins Carries on League Work

One of this city's most popular Junior League members, Miss Billie Mae Hopkins, is giving generously of her time and money to her new career as a social worker. Miss Hopkins is in sympathy with those not so fortunate as herself. She plans to make the surrounding country a better place in which to live within a year. Miss Hopkins states that she thinks it is a worthy cause and she doesn't plan to stop when she has finished here. She will go on to other towns within a radius of 500 miles, continuing her settlement of living conditions.

Stakes Winner

Here's one man who won't have to worry about business any more. Businessman Earl Adams won the $25,000 prize in the 85th consecutive running of the Irish sweepstakes. Mr. Adams was quoted as saying, "I guess I'll just head for some South Sea Island."

Weather Staff

Mr. Cecil Kilse, head of the weather bureau, yesterday appointed his new staff. It includes Jim Robinson, Colin Cameron and Carol Robinson. Mr. Kilse hopes to create better weather for the surrounding country with this new and better staff.

"Yumpha" Girl's Salary Raised After Strike

After two months of continuous arguments and sit-down strikes, Mitzie Lee, the 21st Century Fox "Yumpha Girl," received that much fought-for and much publicized $2,000 increase in salary. All work on Miss Lee's newest picture, "Phhhht With the Breeze," was stopped while Director Jack Maxwell and Boh McGee, production manager, tried to come to terms with the actress.

She stoutly maintained her rights and carried on her sit-down strike by reclining in the exact center of the set. Production on the picture will continue the first of next week. The story of "Phhhht With the Breeze" is based on the latest novel of the same name by Edward Q. Rosa. The author wishes it known that any reference to real persons or places is purely unaccidental.

Climbers Found

Constance Johnson and Genevieve Mertes, famous women climbers, were found after two days of searching on Tumwater mountain. The girls were found by Glenn Staehell, a hermit who kept them at his mountain abode until Sheriff Walt Butts and his deputy, La Verne Meyer, brought the two back to civilization.

Business Men and Women Attend "Old Home" Banquet; U Dunkem Donuts Featured

Last night, in honor of the home-townners who have made good, the Citizens' Committee promoted an "Old Home" banquet. Many who had been successful in their respective businesses attended, both from far and near. Among those attending were: Ernest Sacco, manager of the "U Dunkem" Doughnut company; Bonnie Farrar, prominent Broadway actress, recently starred in "Swing, Brother, Swing," a saga of the old West; Dorothy Ward, famous philosopher and exponent of Darwin's theory; Professor I. Q. Boyson, remarkable entomologist, or, to put it briefly, a bug catcher; and lastly, Dr. Donald Plath, dentist extraordinary, who is making an extensive study of bleusplids by taking candid camera shots.

The banquet was considered a success, and the guests were invited to eat their fill of "U Dunkem" doughnuts. (Paid adv.)

Skater Performs at Local Theater

Patrons of the theater this week can see, in person, Miss Carol Jean Sherman, skater and juggler extraordinary. Miss Sherman, who has played before all the crowned heads of . . . oh, well, just all the crowned heads, is noted for her act in which she balances two glasses of water, a bottle of Coca-Cola, four knives, six doughnuts and other accessories for an eight-course dinner on the back of her head while skating with her nose 987-1000 of an inch from the floor. Those with a keen sense of vision will be able to note that Miss Sherman's nose is square on the end as a result of bumpy floors. She plans to play at the theater for a two-week run.

Many Parties Enliven Social Season

While Strolling Through the Park

While strolling through the park one day, in the merry, merry month of June, Ye Stroller took the following people by surprise:

Senorita Sally Berg, famous showgirl and trouser, out strolling with Gertrude, her pet ostrich, while Policeman Herb Johnson watched the pretty nursemaids, especially Marge Lyman, Commissioner of Parks Elton Bailey was looking especially trim in spats and top hat. The comish is soon to marry Lola Martin, socialite. Romping happily over hill and dale, we see the Bill Kinards (the former Pat Kelly) and their dog Podunk. Ambling through the flower beds is Madame Joy Mae Leubner, famous woman politician and possible candidate for the presidency, sporting the newest thing in high, button shoes.

Great Runner Leaves Track Career

Walt Frieske, the greatest runner since Glenn Cunningham, today announced his intention to the sports world to retire from the track. All lovers of sports will mourn the loss of this famous runner, who broke every record that was set before him. It is said that he is planning to build a home for his wife, his daughter Maxine and himself somewhere in California, then to settle down and grow figs.

Beauty Salon Open Featuring Stylist

Opening Thursday of next week is the Kay Tooke Beauty Salon, under the management of Miss Jeanne Stanton, famous hair stylist. The salon will feature hair styling to suit the new 1950 hats. Miss Stanton has taken two years study of surrealist art and will be well suited to this type of work.

Many colorful parties have added gaiety to the spring social season.

One of the most charming affairs was the engagement party given by Mr. and Mrs. McBride for their daughter Carol, announcing her engagement to Frederick Backlund, civil engineer for the South American Construction company. Many socially prominent people attended. Among the debutantes present were Miss Phyllis Anderson, Miss La Velma Davis and Miss Camilla Ross.

Another popular affair was the party given in honor of Miss Normalee Fink, who has just returned from Canada, where she conducted an extensive research of the mounted police for material for her book, "Hi, Yo, Mountie." She was aided in many ways by the red coats themselves. Those assisting her were Lt. Elmer Colingham, Charles L. Nelson and Orest Sacco.

One of the most interesting and flowery coming-out parties of the season was given last night for Miss Lorraine Larson by her family. Miss Larson attracted every eye in her lovely evening dress. Debutantes at the party were Pat Barry and Arleen McBean. It is rumored that one of the three girls will be voted most popular deb of the year.

"Snow Bound" Leaves On South Seas Tour

Commander-in-Chief Robert O'Reilly and his crew leave Sunday for the South Seas aboard the "Snow Bound." They plan to tour the different outlying islands in the South Seas in a search for native pirates. Commander O'Reilly leaves behind him his fiancée, Miss Shannon Mahoney, famous elocution teacher. Their engagement was announced only recently, and the wedding will take place when the commander returns from this voyage. If all goes well, the ship is expected home in three weeks at the least.

Believe It or Else--

Beverly Berg Stanoslawski of the Russian ballet has had her legs insured for $250,000.

Madame Beverly Adams, noted soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, cannot whistle.

Helen Senter, ladies' middle-weight champion wrestler, is afraid of the lower species of rodents, the mouse.

Floyd Avey, veteran test pilot, took up his strange career when, as a child, he became sick on a roller coaster.

A giffle-noon cannot eat, drink, stand up, sleep or tell Confucius Say jokes.

Elaine Sorenson, noted culinary expert and home economics instructor, admitted under pressure that she simply cannot stand to eat a thing she cooks.

The world champion shot put thrower, Marjorie Smith, developed her muscles by knitting socks for her numerous boy friends.

Northwest Tourney Held at Club

April 10 is the date set for the Pacific Northwest sectional qualifying round of the United States open golf championship to be held at the Country club. The main round will be held May 27. Selection of the club as the site of the contest was announced today by Donald McMullin, U. S. Golf association director. Many of the Northwest's leading players, including Wes Towner and John Aiken, are expected to compete, with the exception of Charles Anderson, national amateur champion, who is exempt from this qualifying round.

America's No. 1 glamour girl, Eileen Allor, announced today that she is studying to be a teacher in home economics. That just goes to show that appearances are deceiving.

Senator Makes Speech at State Meeting

Yesterday at a meeting of the senators of the western states, Senator Gerald Corkrum defended his views with a magnificent speech. The senator spoke in a soul-stirring manner on the subject "How to Reduce in Five Easy Lessons." He said, "My dear, dear friends and neighbors, I speak to you today on a subject near and dear to m'heart." At this point in the speech the senator appealed to the audience which responded with sighs of anguish. He continued, "After taking four of my 'Kill-or-Kure' pills, I am ready to guarantee complete satisfaction." At this horrible statement a woman in the vast audience screamed and swooned. Disregarding the interruption, he went on, "Our pills are made from genuine snake oil, and will cure man or beast, will make your plants grow, and will purify water." Following this final sentence, the audience rose as one man and gave the senator a great ovation. Hats and vegetables were thrown in the air as the great speaker retired backstage. "This speech will go down in history," said one senator. Said a congressman, "The views and ideals of congress will be rearranged after hearing this." Senator Corkrum's next speech is scheduled for a week from next Tuesday.

Criminals Caught With Goods

Two criminals of the most vicious type were arrested here today. They were Vic "Pickle-puss" Linden and his moll, Betty Mae Johnson. They were apprehended between 18th and 19th on Chestnut street while horribly mutilating billboards with an assortment of mustaches. The police have found evidences of their work all over the city.

We prophesy that the wedding bells will soon ring out for Virginia Clarke and a well-known alumnus.

Courthouse Boasts Ace Flagpole Sitter

Anyone looking high above the courthouse will see a flagpole. Anyone looking at the tip of the flagpole will notice a man. He is Robert Townsend, ace flagpole sitter. Mr. Townsend mounted the flagpole at 10 a. m. today and if all goes well, plans to brave the elements for two weeks. Mr. Townsend started his career when a stork with a poor sense of humor perched him on the peak of a barn. He will attempt to break the previous world record.

Famous Singer Makes Tour

Madame Maria Jayne D'Assisi, famous contralto and lead in all Cosmopolitan Opera productions, landed here today after a tour of the world aboard her private yacht, the "Jolly Niek II."

Madame D'Assisi visited many interesting places, one of which was the Canary Island, where she sang herself hoarse trying to outwarble the feathered flocks. As they hugged up the Nile, she chatted pleasantly with the Sphinx, much to the astonishment of the natives.

She had many interesting experiences in Arabia, where, incidentally, she picked up Julia, her pet camel. Sometime within the next year Madame D'Assisi will make the movie version of "Laugh and the World Laughs You: Sing and You Get a Complete Assortment of Green Vegetables." Her fine dramatic ability and fine singing voice should prove her very capable in the field of motion pictures. Soon after the release of her first picture, she will begin work with Pluto, the Wonder Dog, in "Singing in the Doghouse."

Salesman Loses Shoe

Fuller Brush Salesman Ralph Lissy has reported the loss of a shoe. Said shoe is size 11½, with brown and tan stripes. This doghouse was last seen in the vicinity of a housewife's door. If found, please return to R. Lissy, Ritz hotel, Trent avenue.

Rocket Ship Takes Inter-Planetary Trip Soon

Plans for the inter-planetary rocket ship are soon to be completed in the California laboratories of Prof. Donald Kirkendorfer, M. D., Ph. D., D. D. S., etc. For two years Professor Kirkendorfer and his assistants have been working secretly on the plans, and only recently announced their intentions to establish an air system between planets. Professor Kirkendorfer and his crew of two men will take off in the ship on an experimental flight at a very near date. The professor's two assistants are Roger Rowan and Stanley Butchart.

Home Town Girl Bus Hostess

Home recently on a trip was Miss Helen Kurz, bus hostess. Miss Kurz has worked with the Wolfhound Bus lines for many years now and is said to be enjoying herself heartily. It will be remembered that as a girl Miss Kurz could be seen every morning running around the village square in black tights, and as health is important in a job such as she holds, many young girls could hold Miss Kurz as an example. Her visit lasted only a few minutes, but she promised a return visit soon; to be exact, the next time the bus passes through our small city.

Stevens All-Time Champ Bowler

National Amateur Bowling Champion Mike Stevens set a new record yesterday with an all-time high of 100 games with the practically impossible score of an average of 325 points per game. This came as a surprise to many who know the champ, who is usually renowned for his all-time low.

Let it be known that the "Independents" always stick together, no matter what or why.

CONDUCT BOARD

THE STUDENT Conduct board is comprised of seven members—president, secretary, traffic commissioner, grounds commissioner, convocation commissioner, library commissioner and locker commissioner. The duties of the board are to govern the conduct of the students in the halls, on the grounds, in the library, in the locker rooms and during convocations.

The board meets every Monday morning before school to pass sentence on each case appearing before it.

Students found guilty may be deprived of library or convocation privileges for two weeks, four weeks, or for the semester; may be asked to make up time after school; or may be turned over to the principal.

Lowell C. Bradford is the faculty adviser of the board and must be present at each meeting before sentences are passed.

Officers for the past semester have been: President, Ken Strickler; secretary, Harriet Williamson; traffic commissioner, Wilmarth Mootz; grounds commissioner, Bob Beekman; convocation commissioner, Cameron Ward; library commissioner, Paul Palmer; and locker commissioner, Bernice White.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

IN 1918 Miss Jessie Gibson, now dean of women at Pomona college, Claremont, Calif., organized the League for all of the girls with the purpose of developing sympathy, understanding and active loyalty to the highest interests of the school, the community and the nation. Miss Conah Mae Ellis is the present adviser.

The League is divided into nine departments: Personal efficiency, hobby, Girls' League chorus, library, Red and Black department, senior counselors, school service, social service and the home room representatives, each having a girl director and a faculty adviser.

Girls who work faithfully each semester receive mention on the League honor roll. Bronze, silver, gold and gold set with ruby pins are awarded to those on the honor roll for the second, fourth, sixth and eighth times.

Active officers for the semester were: President, Gwen Shane; vice president, Bonnie Farrar; secretary, Jean Cockburn; treasurer, Marjorie Smith; and adviser, Miss Conah Mae Ellis.

VOX PUELLARUM

VOX PUELLARUM, meaning "Voice of the Girls," was organized in 1913 under the direction of R. G. Hargreaves, then principal of North Central, and Miss Jessie Gibson, who in 1918 organized the Girls' League. The purpose of Vox is to develop within the club, dramatic, literary, music and vocational tendencies.

Sophomore and junior girls having no grade below C are eligible to try for membership. At the end of each semester, the Vox award of $10 is given to a senior girl who has a good scholastic standing and who has overcome the greatest obstacles while attending North Central.

Round table discussions are held on interesting and helpful topics each meeting. A formal banquet is a semi-annual event. The members present a program at Edgecliff each semester. Firesides are held throughout the year.

Officers for the past semester have been: President, Bonnie Farrar; vice president, Betty Wilson; secretary, Norma Dowling; treasurer, Helen Slessor; sergeant at arms, Beverly Byers; historian-reporter, Peggy Bennion; and adviser, Miss Frances Theis.

NEWS EDITORIAL STAFF

SOMETHING new and interesting every year, every issue, is the aim of the editorial staff of The North Central News. Latest addition is a new dress on the editorial page, with the latest streamlined Bernhard type, designed to improve appearance and reading ease.

The paper, which is an all-student activity, supports school activities of scholastic and extracurricular nature and endeavors to inform the student body of the activities of the school and community.

In the National Scholastic Press association annual contest for school papers, The News has received the honor of Pacemaker and rated as one of the 13 best high school papers in the United States.

Editorial staff members are: Bob Wyse, editor in chief; Dale Howard, associate editor; Lloyd Scott, news editor; Miss Mary McKenna, faculty director; Helen Kirk, head copy reader; Vera Gale Sawins, Mary Brower, copy readers; Dorothy Ward, Muryel Zoellern, editorial page editors; Margaret Eichelberger, feature editor; Gerald Corkrum, sports editor; Dale Vaughn, LeRoy Crowe, sports writers; Daphne Nelson, Betty Gazette, girls' sports; Wayne Luders, Boys' Federation; Beverly Gregory, Girls' League; June Arbour, exchanges; Betty Caudill, library; Betty Caudill, Marjie Townsend, Betty Halstead, Bina Guenther, proofreaders.

NEWS BUSINESS STAFF

MANAGING the monetary problems of The News is the work of the business staff. Cooperation between the editorial and business staffs makes the publication of the paper possible. Supporting activities of the school through the paper is as much the job of the business staff as of the writing staff, for without the advertising it would be impossible to finance the project.

The business staff consists of: Don Plath, business manager; Betty Hatch, advertising manager; George Skeels, circulation manager; Jed Rozelle, book-keeper; E. J. Griffin, faculty director.

First row: Floyd Avey (sergeant-at-arms), Gwen Shane (secretary), Bob Olson (president), Don Leonard (vice president), Phyllis Kline, Phil Hintz (treasurer). Second row: Alice Mae Stafford, Joan Heiber, Mary Patchen, Cora Hughart, Phyllis Smith. Third row: Virginia Johnson, Ethel Strenge, Rose Cannata, Wilmarth Mootz, Bob Sheeks. Fourth row: Howard Graul, Al Morganthaler, Harl Aldrich, Bill Knaack, Virginia Snow, Allen Cole, Bob Wyse.

THE ART club, under the advisership of Miss Ethel Ashley, strives to bring art before the students of the school and increase the knowledge of this subject among its members.

An annual Christmas card sale in November and December, the sponsoring of exhibits in the study halls, and the making of posters for the halls or any club that wishes them, comprise the most important activities of the organization. Art reports are given regularly in meetings. In addition, two parties are given each semester.

The membership quota is 20 regular members and 5 associates. At least one year in art with a grade of B is required.

Officers the past semester have been: President, Pat Tavernia; vice president, Jay Cramer; secretary, Ruth McMath; treasurer, Paul Michaels.

THE MATHEMATICS club, founded to create a greater interest in math among students, is under the able supervision of Faculty Adviser Ralph Baldwin. Membership is limited to a group of 12 boys and 12 girls, each having two years of math with a grade of B.

Algebra and geometry contests are sponsored for those who are interested in higher mathematics. Cups are awarded to the winners, whose names are also engraved on the silver plaque in the lower hall. The first-year contest winner is presented with a certificate, besides having his name engraved on the bronze plaque in the showcase.

Officiating at the meetings have been: President, Bob Olson; vice president, Don Leonard; secretary, Gwen Shane; treasurer, Philip Hintz; sergeant at arms, Floyd Avey.

ATHLETIC BOARD

THE ATHLETIC board, organized in 1917, is composed of the principal, the vice principal, the athletic directors, coaches, captains and managers of the various interscholastic sports. The function of the board is to approve candidates for athletic awards.

Upon the termination of a major sports season, the board meets in the principal's office to vote athletic letters or emblems recommended by the coach.

To earn an athletic letter, a player must play a certain number of times in games during the season. Coaches' recommendations are based on this rule.

There are only two offices, that of president and secretary. Lloyd Scott, former president of the Federation, is president this semester and Frances Perpich is secretary.

The board has the privilege of electing honorary members. Selection may be made from the outstanding athletes of the student body or from among leading men in the city.

THEATER MASQUE

SANS SOUCI

ORGANIZED in 1910 to develop and improve musical and dramatic talent, the Theater Masque club has a membership of 15 boys and 15 girls. New members, chosen by tryout, must have the ability to entertain in some way; either by singing, dancing, playing some instrument, or giving a novelty performance.

Under the direction of Mrs. Grace Douglas Leonard, a pay convocation is frequently given by members, the proceeds of which are turned over to school funds. Also, joint convocations are given with other schools.

Officers are: President, George Lotzenhiser; vice president, Leona Sullivan; secretary, Jack Bradford; sergeant at arms, Ken Strickler; treasurer, Barbara Weed; reporter, Fern Carlock.

THE FRENCH club, or Sans Souci, meaning "Without Anxiety," was organized in 1913 for the purpose of developing a knowledge of France, its language and customs. Above all, members concentrate on trying to bring about a better understanding between the two countries.

At present, there are 15 girls in the organization under the direction of Miss Margaret Fehr. An interest in French and at least two final C's in this subject are required.

A French essay contest is sponsored every semester by Sans Souci for students who have taken at least one year of the language, money prizes being awarded to the winners.

Officers the past semester have been: President, Marian Carter; vice president, Eleanor Pontier; secretary, Madeline Wolfe; treasurer, Betty Caudill.

NORTH Central's Spanish club, La Tertulia, Spanish for "social gathering," was organized in 1918 by Miss Edith Broomhall, to encourage the study and use of Spanish by language students.

Members study the customs and the progress of Spain and Mexico. Various characteristics of the countries are portrayed by the club members at meetings at which some present plays and others give reports. Firesides are held throughout the semester as an outside event. Two final C's in Spanish are the requirements for tryouts. La Tertulia is composed of 25 Spanish students.

Officers are: President, Mitzi Lee; vice president, Jim Welton; secretary, Marylou MacPherson; treasurer, Rose Mele; and adviser, Miss Julia Hermann.

IN 1921, the radio club was organized to promote an interest in radio. Rho Kappa's main activity now is the North Central amateur radio station, W7YL. This station is located on the fourth floor of the school and is in operation most of the school periods. Because of the many contacts made daily by this station, North Central high school is known throughout the United States.

Only boys passing technical examinations on radio theory and practice are admitted to Rho Kappa. Every Thursday, Rho Kappa has its meeting in which the business of the club and radio is discussed.

For the past semester officers have been: President, Kenneth Dirkes; vice president and trustee, Dick Stammerjohn; secretary, Carl Hofer; treasurer, Morgan Endsley; and adviser, James O. Griggs.

TO FURTHER interest in creative writing is the purpose of the Scriptorian club, which originated in 1923. Miss Nellie Catton is the adviser.

Firesides are an important activity of the club. At these gatherings, stories, poems and essays by well-known authors or short, original compositions written by the members are read and discussed with great informality. Another activity of the society is sponsoring the Youth page in the Spokesman-Review. At the regular meetings of the club, each girl contributes at least one original composition during the semester.

Only girls with four semester grades of A or B in English are eligible to try out for membership.

The officers are: President, Betty Wilson; vice president, Connie Armfield; secretary, Muryel Zoellern; treasurer, Daphne Nelson; reporter, Marian Carter; historian, Evelyn Penney.

TO GIVE members a wider knowledge of books and authors is the primary aim of Amores Librorum, under the guidance of Miss Mary Bacon.

Members of the club sponsor Book week projects, including a convocation for the benefit of the library and student contests in art and literature. Book talks are given regularly in meetings, and important outside speakers frequently talk on literature and travels.

The quota of members is 15 girls and 15 boys. All students with a B average, except 9B's and 12A's, may apply for membership in the club.

Officers of the past semester were: President, Robert Sheeks; vice president, Wilmarth Mootz; secretary, Helen Kurz; treasurer, Philip Hintz; sergeant at arms, Charles Wheeler.

Second row: Corine Lathrop, Marjorie Cozzetto, Mary Pangos, Mary Tonis, Eileen Wilhelm, Rose Mele.

IT IS the purpose of the Latin club of North Central to give its members a deeper insight into the lives of the ancient people. This is accomplished by studying the problems and progress of modern Italy and linking it up with the problems of the ancient Romans, and by a study of the influence of the Latin language on our English.

The club is purchasing Latin song books which the members will use at meet- ings and which the classes will also use in their study of Latin. Club membership numbers 26.

Officers for the present semester are: President, Charlene Huffman; vice president, Lenore McNeeley; secretary, Dorothy Lindgren; treasurer, Louise Desavado; and adviser, Miss Helen Prince.

INTERNATIONAL club, under the advisership of Miss Violet Starkweather, is comprised of fore- igned-born girls or those whose parents were born in a foreign country. The main purpose of the organization is to promote better under- standing between the United States and foreign countries.

Membership is limited to 21 girls, having grades of C or above in all subjects. Some of the countries repre- sented are: England, Ger- many, Italy, Greece, Canada and Ireland.

Reports on foreign coun- tries are given in meetings and a scrapbook and ques- tion box have been planned, in order to further the study of this subject. Fire- sides and other social activi- ties are frequently enjoyed by the members.

The officers are: Presi- dent, Lauretta Martin; vice president, Eleanor Pontier; secretary, Frances Zoellern; sergeant at arms, Jean Cock- burn; treasurer, Bernice Johnston; reporter, Margue- rite Clark.

“DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY,” a modern comedy in three acts, by Albert Cascelo, was presented at two evening performances by the senior dramatics class. The play was directed by Mrs. Grace Douglas Leonard.

The play is based on a poetic conception of “Death” suspending all activities for three days and living the life of a mortal. It is a story of the love between Death, as a mortal, and Grazia, a lovely girl of 18, and the conflict in their love for each other. The setting of the play is the old castle of Duke and Duchess Lambert. The play lends both comedy and tragedy, but all ends happily.

Business manager: Ernest Hayes.

Publicity: Betty Halstead, manager, Mitzi Lee and Leon Craig.

House manager: Mike Stevens.

Advertising: Walt Frieske, manager, Shannon Mahoney and Elton Bailey.

Stage properties: Helen Kurz, Connie Armfield, Kathleen Kemmery and Dorothy Jarvis.

Costumes: Betty Halstead and Virginia Barton.

Settings: Clarke Gist and Jeanne Stanton.

Make-up: Leona Sullivan, Mike Stevens and Katherine Higgins.

Script holders: Katherine Higgins and Leona Sullivan.

Two casts were chosen to give the play on alternate nights. The cast was as follows:

Prince Serki.....	Jim Robinson, Jack Hillgren
Grazia.....	Leona Sullivan, Connie Armfield
Carrado.....	Clarke Gist, Harold Hughes
Duke Lambert.....	Gerald Hartley, Bob O'Reilly
Stephanie.....	Helen Kurz, Dorothy Jarvis
Alda.....	Shannon Mahoney, Virginia Barton
Eric.....	Ken Strickler, Elton Bailey
Rhoda.....	Mitzi Lee, Beverly Berg
Princess.....	Betty Wilson, Sylvia Green
Baron.....	Joe Carter, Leon Craig
Major Witread.....	Jim Welton, Kenneth Reichow
Fedele.....	Walter Frieske, Ernest Hayes
Cora.....	Beverly Adams, Katherine Higgins

ONE-ACT PLAYS

To learn the art of acting with poise and confidence before an audience, the class also worked on several one-act plays which were given before special groups.

"Poor Maddelena," which was presented before the I. E. E. A. during teachers' institute, is a play of fantasy. The plot is that of two children in the land of beyond who want to see the real world and the play depicts the suffering they endure as they live in our land.

Members of the cast were:

Pierrette.....	Beverly Berg
Pierrot.....	Jack Hillgren
Maddelena.....	Leona Sullivan
Paola.....	Ernest Hayes
Bumbu.....	Jim Robinson

At the advertising convocation of the class play, "The Pot Boiler" was presented. The scene of this popular comedy is set in a theater during rehearsals.

Cast included:

Mr. Ruler.....	Ernest Hayes
Mrs. Pencil.....	Betty Halstead
Miss Ivory.....	Kathleen Kemmery
Mr. Inkwell.....	Jim Welton
Mr. Ivory.....	Walter Frieske
Miss Wouldby.....	Shirley McCoy
Mr. Pinickelsud.....	Mike Stevens

The dramatics class held a baby picture contest of members of the class play, "Death Takes a Holiday."

An assortment of baby pictures of the class was put up in the library for a period of one week. Cards listing the names of the cast were distributed to the home rooms. The idea of the contest was to identify each person named on the card with his baby picture. The first five students to turn in the correct answers received a free ticket to the class play.

Miss Dorothy Smith, a cadet from Washington State college, assisted Mrs. Leonard in both speech and dramatics. Mrs. Leonard had Miss Smith as a sophomore in Pullman high school and was very happy to have her as an assistant.

DOLL SHOP

SCARECROWS, black cats, Raggedy Anns, Spanish señoritas, Hawaiians, and others too numerous to mention, were all a part of the fifth bi-annual Doll Shop which was presented at a double convocation Thursday, March 14.

Leads in the production were handled by Harvey Lowe and Paul Palmer, two young lads in desperate need of money to go to college. Just when they were feeling the blackest, their sister, played by Beverly Adams, suggests selling her friends' dolls to raise the necessary money. The two little girls, Patricia Carpenter and Betty Munroe, who come to buy a doll, are much annoyed by the twin sister pests, Marian and Muriel Munroe. Lawrence Peterson added a bit of humor to the show with his antics as the Jack-in-the-Box.

Outstanding numbers of the Doll Shop included two terpsichorean artists, Beverly Ann Berg, who danced a beautiful toe number to music composed by C. Olin Rice, and Barbara Ann Weed, who gave a clever wooden shoe dance. Ben McInturff was well-liked in his role of the swamp boy. He sang "Chloe."

Leona Sullivan and Delight Case added the serious touch with their interpretation of Topsy and Eva. Beverly Smith and Jeanne Hibbitt won much applause for their cossack dance. Some other notable numbers were the Hawaiian hula, danced by Donna De Spain, Pat Barry, Jo Watson and Grace Whitmore, and a ballet done in bouffant white net costumes by Phyllis Henry, Doris Kelly, Rachel Krause and Delores Haroldson. Among others who turned in well-remembered performances are: Marianne Peterson, Silver Shoes; Billee Mae Coombes, "Sleepy Time Gal"; Fern Carlock, acrobatic; Eleanor Charbulak and Ethel Kruger, Bohemian dolls; Caroline Baxter, Jeanne Corbett, Loretta Fruin, Phyllis Johnston, Jane Kuhlman, Betty Lou Scheel and Glenna Wiley, Seven Dwarfs; Donna La Point and Marian McLucas, dream dolls; Barbara Wied, Spanish; Sally Berg, newsboy; Elsie Stephens, Gypsy doll; Jim Welton and Gloria Pliess, "Apple for the Teacher"; Doris McQuillin, old-fashioned girl; Betty Bittner, flower girl; Euna Scott, whistling doll; and Peggy Leach, the sailor doll.

Several members of the faculty helped stage the production. Among them are: Miss Elsa Pinkham, general director; C. Olin Rice, who wrote several songs; Miss Ethel Ashley, who directed the painting of posters and other scenery; Mrs. Grace Douglas Leonard, who was in charge of the dramatic portions; J. D. Youngman, stage and lighting effects; and Miss Agnes Avent, who designed the costumes and supervised their making.

Gerald Hartley had charge of selecting and directing the Doll Shop orchestra. In this group were: Jim Pitcher, Virginia Snow, Glenn Travis, Genevieve Trapschuh, Norma Kucera, Fred McLucas, Cora Hughart, George Lotzenhiser, Jack Lyman, Gene Greenwood, John Penning, Wayne Peterson, Gordon Munro and Donna Garlough.

Helen Kurz and Theda Garlick were the student business managers and E. J. Griffin the faculty business manager. Helen Senter was in charge of making costumes. On her committee were Marie Michaels and Betty Mae Johnson. Clever lighting effects by the stage crew, Earl Schmidt, Alvin Wollweber, Clyde England, Glenn Berg, Lester Harris and Clayton Markle, did much to enhance the show.

At the evening performance, which was given for parents and friends, an old-time quartet was added to the program. In the quartet were: Fergus Cameron, '28, Lynn Fyhrle, January '29, Rusty Orr and George Taylor.

THE BAND has built up a fine reputation, not only in Spokane, but throughout the entire Northwest, for its playing and marching ability. For the eleventh time, the band went to Wenatchee this semester to participate in the Apple Blossom festival, where they were awarded a trophy for the best band in class AA. Two concert appearances were made, one in the thirty-third semi-annual concert, April 19, and the second in the combined band-orchestra-chorus seventh annual spring music festival.

Featured on the former program were "Overture of 1812," by Tschai-kowsky, said by Director Lowell C. Bradford to be the most difficult the band has ever attempted; "Headlines," by Colby, a modern rhapsody and an original composition by Gerald Hartley, a member of the band, "Prelude From the Northwest."

The band also played for all home baseball games and was on call for all parades and other civic appearances. Twenty-seven members are lost by graduation this time. They include: Fred Backlund, Bob Beekman, Jack Bradford, Richard Brede, Bob Brooks, Stan Butchart, Joe Carter, Leon Craig, Lynn Drollinger, Roy Duntun, Clarke Gist, Howard Grimsrud, Glenn Grote, Gerald Hartley, Ernest Hayes, Bob Hix, Philip Hintz, Oren House, Harold Hughes, Melvin Noreen, Jack Ramsey, Dick Sprint, Glenn Staeheli, Kenneth Strickler, Ray Sullivan, Cameron Ward, Bob Wyse.

WHEN a small musical group that can give sure-fire entertainment is called for, very often the Derby band is given the nod. An instrumental quintet, long a favorite with students as well as with outside groups, the Derby band has in its repertoire semi-comical numbers, solos, typical folk music of Spain and Germany and special arrangements of concert selections.

Among other places this semester, the group has performed on many occasions, among them the three-mill tax rally, the Hi-Y conference, the Boy Scout and Y. M. C. A. banquets.

Members are: Clarinets, Kenneth Strickler and John Webster; trumpet, Jack Bradford; trombone, Joe Carter and George Lotzenhiser, alternating; bass, Glenn Staeheli and Daniel Havens, alternating.

RESPONSIBLE for much of the spirit and enthusiasm at convocations, basketball games and other gatherings is the Pep band, an organization of 15 musicians. Playing mostly modern music, they are in constant demand to furnish entertainment at various functions.

Many members of this organization upon graduation have chosen music as a vocation, attributing their early stimulus and musical experiences to their days at North Central. Truly, the Pep band gives an embryo talent the chance to develop and acts as an incentive to boys with musical abilities. Proof of their versatility is evidenced by more than 100 selections in their repertoire.

The group played during intermission at the thirty-third semi-annual band concert and was featured in a pep convocation preceding the concert. Numbers played were "The Isle of May," "Pavanne" and "Study in Brown."

GIRLS' LEAGUE ORCHESTRA

DIRECTING the Girls' League orchestra for the past semester has been the job of Cora Hughart, independent of any faculty supervision. The orchestra gives the girls ten points toward League honors and provides an interesting outlet for their talent in music. The group was organized in 1933 by Mercedes Warren, June '37, who was vice president of the Girls' League at that time. The girl musicians appeared at League convocations and the "Nifty Shop," a girls' operetta.

The following girls are members of the orchestra: Violin, Virginia Snow, Genevieve Trapschuh, Mary Chafee, Joy Ferguson, Eleanor Wilkholm; cello, Norma Kucera and Gloria Stokes; bass, Frances Goodale; flute, Cora Hughart; clarinet, Virginia Jones, Marceesa Lake and Marian McLucas; trumpet, Peggy Leach; piano, Joyce Millsbaugh.

※ ※ ※ ※ ※

SECOND ORCHESTRA

Second orchestra is maintained as a training ground and stepping stone for first orchestra. The class time is spent much as it is in first orchestra, with the exception that since it is a preparatory class, it makes no public appearances. Musicians are schooled under the baton of C. Olin Rice.

Members of the orchestra are: Rosaleen Jackman, Muriel Munroe, Joyce Haggstrom, Ellen Pratt, Alma Orroch, George Gates, Doug Volosing, Betty Hoffman, June Taft, Maressa Lake, Marian McLucas, Jane Coulter, Verna Cleaver, Margaret Morgan, Bob White, Peggy Leach, Oris Weaver, Brooks Brown, Daniel Havens, Carol Gross, Marian Munroe, Molly Riley, Roy Halquist.

OPENING the season with a capable squad, the North Central hoop team finished a successful season in third place in the high school league. Returning lettermen were Lloyd Scott, Ernest Sacco, Doug Cramer and Wes Dahl. The team, captained by Lloyd Scott, left no disappointments in the minds of its followers.

North Central opened the season with victories over West Valley, Colville, Wallace and Kellogg. The Indians then hit a slump and lost successive games to Pine City, Endicott, Coeur d'Alene and Walla Walla. Back on the victory trail, Waitsburg and Prescott were taken into camp.

The pre-season schedule was terminated with a low-scoring 11 to 9 loss to Bonners Ferry.

Leading in the scoring in these games was Dale Gronsdaahl with 63 points in 12 games, followed by Lloyd Scott with 62 points.

SERIES WITH ROGERS

After losing the opening game to the Rogers five, the Indians came back to capture the remaining three games. Sparked by Johnson and Franklin, the Pirates won the opening game on the North Central floor by a 32 to 25 count. In the second game at Rogers, the Indians sidetracked a Pirate rally and managed to be on top at the final gun, 28 to 26.

Opening the second half of the city series with a 28 to 19 victory over Rogers, the Braves were perched on top of the city race. In the final tilt with Rogers, Ernie Sacco led his teammates to a 28 to 18 victory.

GONZAGA TILTS

North Central could capture only one of the four games from the tall Zags. On the spacious Gonzaga court, the Bullpups annexed the first game of the series by a three-point margin, 24 to 21. With a vicious last-half attack that netted them 27 points, the Reds overpowered the Boone avenue gang 36 to 22 in the second tilt.

Gonzaga's tall timber hit their stride and ran away with the Indians in the third tilt, 35 to 23. Big Frank Laney and Ed Whitford were largely responsible for the victory. The last game with Gonzaga was a thriller from start to finish. Bing Dahl and his mates were trying vainly to stay in the running for the championship, but at the final count were on the short end, 28 to 24, and knocked out of the race.

LEWIS AND CLARK SERIES

The Reds traveled across the river to engage the Tigers in their first meeting of the year. The fans witnessed one of the most thrilling games of the year as North Central came out on the long end of a 24 to 23 count. Scrappy Doug Cramer with his ten points was very instrumental in the victory. Playing a steady, good ball-handling game, the Warriors broke through the Lewis and Clark zone defense for a 20 to 16 win. Bing Dahl's long howitzers, which accounted for nine points, came in very handy.

After being defeated by the troublesome Bullpups, the Redskins pitched camp again in the Tiger den, but lost their second consecutive game 26 to 20. Shortly after the half opened, the Orange and Black amassed an eight-point lead and were never threatened. The final game of the season had no bearing on the standings, as the Tigers were already champions. The Bengals took the high-scoring tilt 41 to 32. This game marked the end of the basketball career of Captain Lloyd Scott, Ernest Sacco, Cliff Yadon, Clyde Hoag and LeRoy Crowe.

BASKETBALL SNAPS

TRACK

COACH GUY BARNES had eight lettermen on hand as he began defense of the city track crown this spring. North Central has won the championship the past two years.

Outstanding in every meet were the following lettermen that formed the nucleus of this year's squad: Walt Frieske, sprints; Bob Haworth, Ralph Lissy and Wayne Lunders, 880 and 440; Frank Hammond, mile; Fred Nasato, Harold Short and Roy Nichols, field events.

Participants among the non-lettermen were: Tom Herman, Wallace Mahoney and Gerald Corkrum, sprints; Chuck Burghduff, Bill Fallis, Bob Smith, Irl Cosby, Claude Bare, George Langill and Cyril Bare, distance events; Jack Ramsey, Ray Bowles and Jim Welton, hurdles; Jeff Giesar, Bruce Walker, Bill Mayther, James Gordon and Harl Aldrich, field events.

INDIANS SWAMP ROGERS

North Central experienced little difficulty in disposing of the Hillyard boys to the tune of 71½ to 32½. Rogers' strength showed in the hurdles, high jump and pole vault, the only events they won. North Central's superiority came in the 220, 440 and 880 as they swept these events. Bob Haworth turned in good time in the 880 to prove to be one of the outstanding threats in the city in this event. Roy Allen, Rogers' record holder in the high jump, won his event handily. Fred Nasato again was the class of the shot putters.

GONZAGA SECOND VICTIM

Boasting the best team they have had in several years, the Bullpups handed the Indians a scare at the outset of the meet, but the Indians pulled through, 71 to 33. Bob Bunch, Gonzaga sprinter, won the 100 and 220 as two mates followed him to the tape in the 220 for a sweep. North Central swept the 440 and mile run. Wayne Laders turned in good time in the 440 as did Irl Cosby in the mile.

Gonzaga's sprinters produced an infrequent trick when they trimmed the Reds' relay team. This is the first relay race Coach Barnes has lost.

Because the Tamarack goes to press before the Lewis and Clark and city meets, the staff has been unable to cover these events. However, past performances indicate that North Central should win both.

FROSH BASKETBALL

UNDER the tutorship of two coaches, Ring Thorgerson and Sam Eastman, Washington State college cadets, and supervised by Athletic Director J. Wesley Taylor, the frosh basketball quintet won two tilts and lost four in the city frosh casaba league. The Indian yearlings dropped Gonzaga in the initial league tilt of the season and later won the second Rogers tilt in a fast overtime game.

SPLIT GONZAGA SERIES

The Braves played Gonzaga in the first and last games of the season, scoring a 20 to 14 victory in the opening tussle and losing a one-sided 26 to 7 game in the second tilt. Rod Rector sparked the Indians in the first tilt with six points, followed by Gale Hart and Tom Smith with four apiece and Bob Lowe, Fred Hoenes and George Caruso with two each. Vernon Benshoof and George Chance scored two tallies each and Vernon Coolbaugh, Frank Havelick and Caruso netted one apiece in their second encounter.

ROGERS SERIES TOUGH

Rogers swamped the frosh 27 to 7 in the first game of the series, but the Indians came back to win a tough overtime tilt 20 to 18. In the fast overtime game, Jack Beek led the Red attack with 10 counters. Havelick and James McFarling accounted for four points apiece and Lowe two points for the Indians.

L. C. SWEEPS SERIES

Lewis and Clark won both games from North Central, winning the first tilt 15 to 6 and the second 19 to 16. The Tigers swept through the city frosh league schedule without a defeat to win the championship. Wayne McGregor, Smith and Caruso accounted for the Indians' scoring in the initial tilt with a field goal apiece. In the second battle, Beek came through with 10 points, followed with four tallies by Havelick, and one apiece by McFarling and Everett Castle.

BOLSTERED with five returning lettermen, the North Central baseball team served notice from the first that they would provide some of the toughest competition in the city league. Coach Archie Buckley fielded his best squad of the last two or three years in the race to put down the baseball bosses, Rogers and Lewis and Clark, co-champions last season.

Bruce Wylder, pitcher, Wes Dahl and Pete Benner, infielders, and Dick Nevers and Howard Wohrle, outfielders, formed the nucleus of the team along with five non-letter winners from last year's squad. Backing up the lettermen are: Gale Morgan, Bob Donald and Dick Boyson, pitchers; Fred Backlund, infielder, and Ernie Burnett, outfielder.

Earning positions on the squad after showing up well in interclass competition are: Dick Baertsch, Vincent Davis, Jack Beck and George Hayes, catchers; Jack Sloan and George Skeels, pitchers; Bob Rice, Bill McGregor, Jerry Williams and George Chance, infielders; and Doug Cramer, Don Wagner and Wayne Luders, outfielders.

PRE-SEASON TILTS

In pre-season competition the Indians won four games and lost five. After dropping an afternoon tilt to Lewiston, 8 to 1, the Indians came back in their first night baseball game to upset the Idaho club 3 to 2. Two more scalps were added during the spring vacation, an 11 to 6 victory over the Spokane Junior college and a narrow 4 to 3 win over the North Central alumni. Both tilts of a two game series were lost to Walla Walla. The first, a night game, lasted 12 innings and ended 1 to 0. Walla Walla repeated in the next tilt, winning 12 to 5. North Central came from behind to edge by West Valley 16 to 13 in the highest scoring game of the pre-season. The Indians finished the pre-season games with 6 to 3 and 2 to 1 losses to Spokane Junior college.

BRAVES LOSE OPENER

In the league opener the Braves ran up against a hard-hitting Gonzaga nine, bowing before the Bullpups 9 to 2. Two homeruns, Sartain's in the third inning with two on base and Gerstenberger's with the bases loaded in the sixth proved the downfall of the Indian club. The Indians scored in the first and second innings. Gale Morgan went the route for North Central, giving up 10 hits, while Merriman and Carbaugh allowed only 4 hits.

TIGERS TAKE GAME 5 TO 4

North Central suffered its second defeat of the season at the hands of Lewis and Clark Tuesday, April 30, losing a hard-fought game 5 to 4. The Indians drew first blood, pushing across a run in the first inning on two hits. The Tigers drew ahead of the Redmen, scoring three runs in the fourth and one in the sixth, but the Braves knotted the count with a three-run rally in the last of the sixth. The South Siders scored the final run in the seventh. With the winning runs on bases, the Tigers pulled a double play to end a determined North Central threat in the last of the seventh. Gale Morgan went the route for the Indians, allowing only five hits, while his teammates collected six off Phillips of Lewis and Clark.

PING-PONG

COACH ERNEST HIX gave his ping-pong squad plenty of opportunity to get in shape for the Lewis and Clark matches, providing two practice tournaments. Jack Bradford and Wes Towner placed first and second, respectively, in the double elimination tourney last semester. In the ladder tourney early this spring, Jack Bradford, Everett Clarke and Wes Towner were rated as the top three ping-pong players in North Central.

TIGERS WIN FIRST MATCH

Lewis and Clark barely nosed out the Indians by a single point in both matches. The Indians split the singles contests, but lost two of the three doubles matches to lose 5 to 4 in the first match. Bradford, Burghduff and Towner earned points in the singles, and Clark and McCannon won North Central's doubles match.

LEWIS AND CLARK REPEATS

In the second meeting of the two schools, the Braves captured all four doubles matches, but fell down in the singles to lose a narrow 7 to 6 decision. Burghduff and Carlson won the only North Central singles victories, while the Indians swept all four doubles matches. Bradford and Burghduff, Carlson and Anderson, Clarke and McCannon, and Phillips and Towner chalking up points.

BASEBALL SNAPS

GOLF

IN ANSWER to Coach Walter C. Hawes' call to the fairways this spring, 22 golf enthusiasts turned out to battle for the six positions on the squad. Only two lettermen, Bill Lake, school golf champion, and Roy Hipperson, returned from last year's second-place team. The six members of the squad were selected from: Bill Lake, Roy Hipperson, Bob Strang, Bruce Walker, Bob Hocum, Bud McIntire, Gordon Anderson, Kenny Wilson, Kentworth Buxton, Charles Anderson, Willy Carlson and Bob Benshoof.

Bill Lake drew the spotlight in the practice season, scoring a hole-in-one on the 175-yard No. 11 hole at Downriver.

BRAVES HUMBLE GONZAGA

Starting the season right, the Indians burned up the Downriver course to score an 11 to 5 victory over Gonzaga. Bill Lake and Bob Hocum sparked the Braves' attack, each sweeping all three points.

BRAVES THUMP ROGERS

Displaying far superior power on the fairways, the Braves lost only one point in whipping last year's champions, Rogers, 16 to 1 at Indian Canyon. While the Redmen were downing the Pirates, Lewis and Clark defeated Gonzaga 11 to 6 to give both the Indians and Tigers a claim to first place with 27 points each after the second match of the double round-robin schedule.

INDIANS IN FIRST PLACE

North Central took a commanding lead at the half-way point of the city golf tournament, defeating Lewis and Clark 11 to 4 at Indian Canyon. The Indians have a good hold on first place with 38 points. The Tigers, their nearest rivals, are in second place with 31 points and Gonzaga and Rogers follow in third and fourth places, respectively.

TENNIS

WITH a fair chance of adding another city tennis championship to the already imposing list of five straight crowns, the Indian net squad, under the watchful eyes of Coach Ernest L. Hix, prepared for the title defense by playing a practice tournament and scheduling a number of tune-up matches. Four lettermen, Joe Brasch, Wes Towner, Lloyd Scott and LeRoy Phillips, formed the nucleus of the team, with Charles Wheeler, Phil Munroe, Bill Wotring and Bill McCannon completing the list of top-ranking players. Other boys who threatened to move up into the upper brackets are: Jack Bloom, Jack Brasch, Everett Clarke, Don Havens, Bob Hix, James Hoffman, Deral Kurz, Ben McInturf, Jim Pitcher, Elmer Schorzman, Dick Townsend and Lawrence White.

PRACTICE MATCHES

The Indian netmen displayed power to spare in their first pre-season match, shutting out Cheney high school 8 to 0 on the North Central courts. Three matches were rained out in the practice tourney with Coeur d'Alene on the Indian courts, with the Indians blanking the Lake City netmen 5 to 0. The third straight shutout of the season was chalked up at the expense of Bonners Ferry, the Braves winning 7 to 0.

NETMEN BLANK ROGERS

Showing the same form they displayed in pre-season tennis matches, the Indians walked away with a 7 to 0 victory over Rogers in the initial net match of the city league schedule. Lloyd Scott and Chuck Wheeler lost the first set of their doubles match, but came back to take the next two sets and the match. Phil Munroe and Joe Brasch won the other doubles match in straight sets. Bill Wotring, LeRoy Phillips, Wes Towner, Brasch and Scott each won easy singles matches.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

INTRAMURAL sports play an important part in the athletic program at North Central. Nearly every boy in school would at sometime or other like to be a member of an athletic team. For those boys that do not make the team, an intramural program is arranged. This semester basketball, baseball, softball, handball and horseshoes were on the program.

BASKETBALL

Intramural basketball opened March 11 and continued through March 19. Sam Eastman, cadet from Washington State college, was in charge of the tournament. 117 boys, composing 16 teams, played four games each evening.

The Net-Cutters and the Screwballs met for the championship with the Net-Cutters victorious, 37 to 19. Members of the Net-Cutters were Bob Smith, captain, Miles, Ekins, Mondou, Hartnett, Hemming and Cramer.

At the close of the tourney, the all-tourney teams were selected.

First team: F., Bob Smith, Net-Cutters; F., Phil Monroe, Swishers; C., Joe Brasch, Swishers; G., Chuck Burghduff, Termites; G., Bill Mayther, Screwball, Captain.

Second team: F., Ken Olsen, P. Dingers; F., John Van Schoorl, Lewis and Clark; C., Sam Kidder, W. P. A.; G., Glen Mondou, Net-Cutters; G., Al Curl, Hottentots.

BASEBALL

To give all boys a chance to gain a berth on the varsity baseball team, an intramural tournament was held with 111 boys competing.

Rain caused postponement of several games. The Demons, captained by Dick Nevers, and the Flippers, captained by Gale Morgan, met in the championship game.

George Skeels, working on the mound for the Flippers, allowed but one hit, a single by Le Roy Crowe, as the Flippers downed the Demons 9 to 2. The Flippers scored five runs in the third inning and four in the fourth for their margin of victory.

OTHER INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES

The softball tournament has proved popular in the last few years with the sudden rise to popularity of softball. All games are played after school on the sandlot next to the church.

North Central has two fine handball courts on which 25 boys competed for the singles crown. Boys entered in the tourney were: K. Klise, Saeco, Leone, J. Klise, Gumbel, Bresgal, Flathers, Baldwin, Bob Brown, C. Klise, Orrock, Crook, Cockburn, Covich, Gay, Conboy, Oswald, Van Gelder, Avey, Honenbury, Nickerson, Swift, Cardinal, Killian, O. Nelson and J. Muir.

Horseshoe pits have been installed this spring and have been constantley in use. The following boys entered in the singles tourney played during gym periods and after school: Covich, B. Smith, Pierce, Cockburn, Lindwall, Gay, McLaughlin, Cosby, Baldwin, C. Klise, Compton, Scott, Osborne, Altman, Hayes, Luders, Weller, Avey, J. Klise, Zarnekee, Nickerson, K. Klise, Johnson, Hammond and Orrock.

Nearly 50 boys took part in the doubles tourney in both of these events.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

TENNIS! Golf! Badminton! Baseball! Volleyball! Track! Ping-pong! Ice skating! Swimming! Many girls participated in these various sports events under the direction of Miss Elsa Pinkham throughout the year. Girls in all of the classes are given a chance to show their ability in each sport. Letters in golf and tennis are awarded to those who make a good showing and to those who are faithful in attending the meetings.

P. E. DEPARTMENT

Personal efficiency or physical education department boasts a membership of over 500 girls. The purpose of this department is to direct the girls interested in school activities, especially sports, and to further their interest in them.

Miss Elsa M. Pinkham, girls' physical education instructor, is in charge of this department. Assisting her is Mrs. Grace Beecher, with Priscilla Ross and Pat Buckler as student assistants.

There are numerous ways of earning League points through this department: By turning in walk slips each Friday, stating that one has walked a certain number of blocks each day; by spending a period in another gym class; by going swimming at the Y. W. C. A. or by skating on North Central day at the Ice Arena. Participating in the Doll Shop, the operetta or the May Day pageant are also enjoyable ways of earning points, either for an all-activity award or for the League honor roll.

SKATING

Ice skating took a top place in the student activities this season. A scholastic skating contest, the first attempted at North Central, was a decided success. The contest, sponsored by Scholastic magazine and arranged and supervised by Miss Elsa M. Pinkham, brought out hidden talents in many of the students, and aroused much enthusiasm for skating. The girl and boy first-place winners were Mary Jane Keegan and Wesley Towner, who were both awarded gold skating medals. Mary Jane also received a Sonja Henie parka, and Wesley, a skating cap.

Students learned figure skating as well as "just skating" as a result of the efforts of Miss Elsa Pinkham, Miss Wilhelmine Timm and Miss Mary Sidney Mitchell.

The instructors, all excellent skaters, helped any students who wished to learn on Wednesday afternoons. North Central skating day provided fun for all who attended and furnished social "get-togethers" for both boys and girls. Besides holding the interest of the students, ice skating furnished a winter recreation for many members of the faculty.

The student skating committee was headed by June Arbour and Gwen Shane.

RECREATION HOUR

Students galore flocked into the cafe each Monday afternoon during the semester to participate in the games of the recreation hour. New games were constantly added to the already large assortment. Probably the most popular game was ping-pong, although Chinese checkers, pick-up sticks, chess, checkers, dominoes and authors drew the attention of many of the students. To accommodate the large number of both boys and girls who rushed to the ping-pong tables at the sound of the 3 p. m. bell, it was necessary to limit the time of each game, and play in 20-minute shifts.

Miss Conah Mae Ellis and Ernest L. Hix were the faculty advisers who shouldered most of the work and responsibility of the recreation hour. They were ably assisted by the student directors, Marjorie Smith, Ruth Van Liew, Bill Knaack and Dale Howard.

BADMINTON

Badminton has proved a popular game in the past two years with the girls at North Central. Over a hundred and fifty girls participated in the doubles and singles matches.

Peggy Henkle, senior B, outplayed Peg Gazette to win the badminton singles by a score of 11-4, 2-11, 11-5. In the doubles tournament, Peg Gazette and Betty Hopkins battled their way to the championship by defeating Peggy Henkle and Donne De Spain with scores of 15-10, 4-15 and 15-2. Peggy Henkle and Donne De Spain were second place winners and Mary Lou MacPherson and Jean Wiedeman won third place honors.

Mrs. Grace Beecher was coach of the tournament and the manager was Priscilla Ross. Mary Lou MacPherson and Pat Buckler were the co-chairmen in the events.

Girls participating in the finals and semi-finals in the badminton doubles are: Peg Gazette, Betty Hopkins, Donne De Spain, Mary Lou MacPherson, Jean Wiedeman, Pat Buckler, Priscilla Ross and Peggy Henkle.

VOLLEYBALL

Bang! Sock! It's out of bounds! This year six teams were chosen from among the girls who turned out to participate in the volleyball tournament. The Black team was captained by Mary Lou MacPherson; Red, by Pat Buckler; Green, by Peg Gazette; White, by Ruth Van Liew; Brown, by Norma Garitano; and Blue, by Margaret Morgan.

Champion in the volleyball tournament was the Red team, captained by Pat Buckler. In the finals, the Reds edged out the second-place Black team 24 to 23. Mary Lou MacPherson was captain of the Blacks.

Members of the winning team are: Pat Buckler, Kathie Burke, Bonnie Lalande, Myrtus Cross, Phyllis Johnston, Priscilla Ross, Carolyn Baxter, Gail Smith, Jean Linden, Evelyn Sinfield, Carol Dwinell, Loretta Frain.

Manager for this year's volleyball tournament was Helen Stowell. Her assistants were Mary Lou MacPherson and Bernice White. Mrs. Grace Beecher coached the team and Miss Mary Gussman, cadet, assisted her.

SWIMMING

Most people think of swimming only in the summer time, but the girls at North Central can enjoy a swim at the Y. W. C. A. all the year around. Social swimming at Natatorium park is enjoyed by both boys and girls during the year.

Swimming is organized at the Y. W. C. A. by the instructors. Various swimming strokes and life-saving are taught the girls. All-activity credit is given to the girls who participate.

Girls most interested this year in swimming are: Joyce Ferbaeche, Alice Bently, Mary Dirlm, Lorraine Gilkey, Norma Kucera, Patricia Russell, Helen Roe, Dolores Stoddard, Cora West, Jane Coulter, Betty King and Joyce White.

PING-PONG

For the first time in the history of North Central, the girls have held a ping-pong tournament. Forty girls turned out and by defeating each one in turn, Helen Stowell was crowned "champ." In the finals, Helen defeated Betty Gazette 4-21, 21-16, 21-15.

Ruth Van Liew was chairman and the managers were Helen Stowell and Margaret Morgan.

Players in the tournament were: Genevieve Trapshuh, Priscilla Ross, Gladys Dean, Marian Lussier, Aileen Robinson, June Arbour, Frances Bowler, Lorna Foss, Norma Garitano, La Velma Davis, Rose Favaro, Alice Mae Stafford, Pauline Downie, Betty Gail Kiser, Marguerite Munn, Lucille Oatman, Glenna Wiley, Virginia Snow, Mary Lou MacPherson, Ruth Van Liew, Helen Stowell, Margaret Morgan, Peg Gazette, Lois Beller, Betty Hopkins, Peggy Henkle, Marjorie Smith, Donne De Spain, Pat Buckler, Barbara Kilgore and Betty Gazette.

OUTING CLUB

The Outing club, with Mrs. Becher, adviser, sought the open air and hit the trails as much as they possibly could this spring. With a song in their hearts and food in their packs, they spent enjoyable days in the out-of-doors. As well as having a happy time, the girls learned much that is useful: The tender art of cooking outdoors, campcraft, trail blazing and much hiking information. As their main project, they made from plywood, scrapbooks and folders on which they painted designs and then shellacked them.

Any girl in the school may become a member of this open organization and earn all activity points by participating. No requirements are necessary, except that the girl be interested in the out-of-doors. Pat Buckler has been president this spring and Priscilla Ross, secretary.

COLOR SECTION

The color section, one of the four organizations in the Red and Black department, is composed entirely of freshman and sophomore girls who wish to begin immediately getting into the swing of things at North Central. It is a service as well as a sport organization. Miss Verna Betz is adviser of the group.

Especially inspirational to the fighting football team are these girls who attend every game, dressed in their patriotic and gay colors, red sweaters and black skirts. Ushering at the Inland Empire Education association, the spring Open House, health roundup and acting as hostesses for Play day has kept the color group more than busy this spring.

nion, Frances Robideau.

RED FEATHERS

“TOTEM TOM TOM,” an Indian song, is the song of the Red Feathers, a group of 40 girls organized during the spring of 1938. First appearance of the Red Feathers this semester was on the night of March 1, when they ushered at the three-mill tax levy rally.

GIRLS as well as boys are interested in the art of "cinder-burning," commonly known as track. The chairman of this year's track meet is Marjorie Smith. Managers are Ruth Van Liew, Daphne Bronough and Peggy Gazette. At this writing there has been no competition between the girls on the track.

The track and field events the girls compete in are: 50, 75, 220 and 370-yard dashes, basketball throw, baseball throw, relay race, shotput, high jump and broad jump.

"Slide! Hit the dirt!" Shouts from the girls on the baseball teams!

Captains of the eight various teams were: Mugwumps, Betty McElroy; Baseball Beauties, Helen Duckett; Sluggers, Irene Olsen; The Dynamiters, Gail Smith; The Runts, Glenna Wiley; Thunderettes, Donna Lineberger; Unknowns, Priscilla Ross; Nut House Gang, Jane Delsman.

Holding top honors at the halfway point are the Mugwumps and the Unknowns. In second place are The Runts and tied for third place are The Dynamiters, Thunderettes, Baseball Beauties and the Nut House Gang. Mrs. Grace Becher was coach of the teams.

IN THE first two pre-season matches of the year the girl tennis players displayed their power by defeating Bonners Ferry 4 to 3, by blanking Cheney 14 to 0, and winning over Coeur d'Alene 9 to 2. Matches with Colville, West Valley, Rogers and Lewis and Clark were scheduled.

Captain Pat Shaw, Manager Frances Perpich and her assistant, Frances Bowler, deserve special credit for their work on the team.

This year's team had many excellent players and all in all it was a class A team. Fifteen seniors who will graduate from the team are: June Arbour, Eleanore English, Betty Gazette, Beverly Gregory, Betty Halstead, Dorothy Jarvis, Mitzi Lee, Margaret Morgan, Gwen Shane, Pat Shaw, Marjorie Smith, Ruth Van Liew, Dorothy Ward, Bernice White and Louise Wimer.

Pat Shaw and Beverly Gregory, top rankers in doubles, received their third-year letter award, and Betty Gazette received her four-year letter award. Betty was the first girl ever to receive a four-year award at North Central.

Miss Elsa Pinkham is coach of the tennis team. Practises were held on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday of each week.

GIRLS' GOLF

GOLF, as a class, was introduced to the girls in 1936, and has been for four years one of the most discussed sports. Under the supervision of Miss Wilhelmine Timm and Miss Elsa Pinkham, the girls have spent much time on the course. Willard Mader, professional at the Riverside golf course, taught the girls the fundamentals of golf and gave them much encouragement in the five lessons he gave them at school.

Points toward their all-activity letter and gym make-ups were given to the girls in the golf class.

Ratings of the girls on the team are as follows: Beverly Byers, Betty Gilliland, Eleanore English, June Arbour, Donne De Spain, Theda Garlick, Ida Mae McBride, Lucille Oatman, Peggy Henkle, Marianne Johnston, Elaine May, Betty Gazette, Margaret Bennion, Phyllis Scruggs, Louise Wimer, Marianne Peterson. Theda Garlick was golf captain and Marianne Johnston, manager.

But slave as I do I can not create
A cute little dittie that just might rate.

Oh, what shall I write?" I asked myself.
So promptly I take me to the shelf

To see if I could make some loans.

I thumbed through the pages two at a time
Glancing a second at every line
To see if his poems had just that rhyme
That I am working for all the time.

Some of them do and some of them don't
But never-the-less mine just won't
Work down to something that might just get
A little snicker from you as yet!

"Do you want my husband in his rapacity of veterinary or chief of police?" asked the chief's wife.

"Both!" came the reply. "We can't get a bull dog to open his mouth and there's a burglar in it."

Marriage is an institution.
Marriage is love.
Love is blind.
Therefore, marriage is an institution.
For the blind.—L. R. H. S. Tiger.

NEW CLASSES START EVERY MONDAY MORNING

Once upon a time there was an English girl named Cobina who, by the by, hailed from jolly old Englund. Now, Cobina was a very Wyse girl—Weiser than most girls. I say she was Wyse because she wanted to travel the Rhodes of the earth.

One Cole, Cole Day her ambitions Senter to the U. S. While crossing the Watters she was very Lowe, so Lowe once that she even turned Green!

Well (s), Hartley had she arrived in New York when she went to an eating Berg where the Boss (fo) Russel-ed her some Hammond-eggs.

All at once she looked at her watch and exclaimed: "Evans above—Bare-ly enough time to finish my tea. Prior to this she had asked for some Moe Hammond-eggs but now she had to cancel the order. She had to see that Rasler at Madison Square Gardens.

At the rasling (N. B.—The spelling of the word "wrestling" is just in keeping with the above and does not reflect our knowledge!!) match she became inquisitive and asked the man beside her—the Baldwin—who the Sheek(s) was in the ring.

"Hughes he?" she asked.

"One of the Jones boys—a Carpenter by trade. His brother's a Baker," answered the Baldwin.

During the fight, sad to say, our heroine became too Frieske and contracted the Hix-coughs!!!

"Oh, (P)Shaw!" ejaculated the Baldwin who sat next to her, "Isn't that a Shane!"

Sooooooo, pretty soon some men came and began to Carter off to her House. It seems that some Wolfe had laid a Kurz upon her and this was the cause of her death.

One Frost-y Day they Wheel-(d)-er down the Senter aisle of the Kirk.

Farrar, Farrar away in Englund her sister Brenda was Reed-ing a N. Y. Gazette and she happened to see the account of Lady Cobina's tragic death.

Wall, that's too bad; but we really expected some gangster to Schutte her anyway.

. . . Oh I say,—this is the finis.

SHELLEY'S RENDITION OF "THREE BLIND MICE"

A quarter of a dozen sightless rodents,
A quarter of a dozen sightless rodents,
Perceive in what a manner they move rapidly,
Perceive in what a manner they move rapidly,
The entire body of rodents charged at the sponse of a tiller of the soil,
She severed their rearward appendages with a fragment of keen-edged steel.
Have you ever observed such a spectacle while living
As three sightless rodents?

Miss McKenna: Your jokes are terrible.
Ye humorist: Oh, I don't know; I threw some of them into the fire and it just roared.

He (pleadingly): But you have gone out with worse looking guys than I, haven't you?

She: (No answer.)

He: I say, haven't you gone out with some worse looking guys than I?

She: I heard you the first time. I'm just trying to think.
